SPECIAL COMMENCEMENT ISSUE

The 98th School of Dentistry Commencement will be held on Saturday, June 14, at 11 a.m., in the Masonic Memorial Temple, 1111 California St., S.F. Shirley S. Chater, vice-chancellor for Academic Affairs will confer, and Dean Ben W. Pavone will present 86 senior dental students and 24 senior dental hygiene students with their diplomas.

Commencement speakers will be Ronald J. Nicholson, associate professor, Operative Dentistry, and Margaret M. Walsh, assistant professor, Dental Hygiene.

In addition, Nicholson and Leslie E. Smith, clinical professor of Restorative Dentistry, have been chosen to receive the outstanding faculty awards.

On Friday, June 13, families and friends will present pins to the graduating dental hygiene class at the traditional Dental Hygiene Pinning Ceremony, held in the Postgraduate Auditorium, 701 C at 5:30 p.m. A reception will follow in Millberry Union combined lounges at 7 p.m.

Outstanding faculty and graduating seniors were honored on May 28 at the annual School of Dentistry Awards Ceremony. Outstanding dental students receiving multiple awards were: Craig A. Johnson (Gabbs, Gill and Millberry Awards); Ebenezer Scipio (ADS of Anesthesiology and Millberry Awards); Steven J. Byers (Orthodontists and Operative Dentistry Awards); Martin R. Hatzke (Oral Medicine and the Millberry Awards); Kevin V. Jeworski (Oral Pathology and Fleming Awards); Mary Lou Ramsey (Periodontology and the Hughes Awards); Daniel S. Streck (Dean's Citation and the Fauchard Awards); Kevin M. Keane (Moore and Endodontists Awards); David G. Molina (Rule and Quintessence Awards); Dallas H. Hickle (Medicine and Oral Maxillofacial Surgeons Awards). Also honored were dental students Vivian F. Lopez, Silvano C. Senn, Roger L. Koppel, Lewis M. Del Debbio, Bruce L. Whitcher, James A. Schwellenbach, Albert Toubia, Charles R. Carter, Byron D. Adler, Rudy S. Mendoza, and Barbara Lynn Mallonee. Outstanding dental hygiene students receiving multiple awards were: Maria P. Molina (Professionalism, Dental Hygienists, and the S.F. Dental Hygiene Awards); and Claudia M. Masouredis (Community Service and Recognition Awards). Also honored were dental hygiene students Julie Ann Kroger, Christina M. DeMont, and Pattie Lee Johnson. Hickle, Keane and Schwellenbach also were elected to the Omicron Kappa Upsilon honor society.

Special Recognition and Certificate of Appreciation went to faculty members Manuel Garcia, director of the UCSF Community Dental Clinic at SFGH; Melvin J. Sherman, assistant adjunct professor, General Dentistry, Oral Medicine and Hospital Dentistry; Phoenix E. Sinclair, director UCSF Community Dental Clinic, 100 Buchanan St.; and William Covington, lecturer, Restorative Dentistry. Also recognized were retiring faculty members James M. Fairchild, Egil P. Harvold, Charles D. Hemphill, Lucie I. Lawson, and Marybeth G. Monti.

"Human Sexuality: Strategies for Teaching in the Nursing Curriculum" is a Continuing Education Course in Nursing to be held on Thursday and Friday, June 19 and 20. Nursing and non-nursing faculty members who have had at least one course in human sexuality are encouraged to attend this course designed for faculty who have some theoretical background in this field.

The course will explore a variety of teaching methods that facilitate students' ability to incorporate human sexuality into clinical practice.

Faculty for the workshop are Marianne K. Zalar, associate clinical professor and principal investigator; and Tony Ayres, lecturer, both from Nursing Education in Human Sexuality. For program information call x1817, registration information, x2894 or x2483.

An unusual slide show detailing the development of San Francisco west of Lone Mountain, Mount Sutro, and Twin Peaks, will be shown on Wednesday, June 18 at 7:30 p.m. in Cole Hall. It is free and open to the public.

The 90-minute "Sandlot City" slide show premiered in San Francisco 10 years ago when its creator, Thomas Harrison, a teacher at Lowell High School, developed the five-screen multimedia program with students in the social science department.

The presentation combines sound tracks, special effects, and a number of sophisticated projectors to produce this unique media event. The pictures have been gathered from libraries, historical societies, private collections, and family albums.

The presentation is sponsored by the Office of Public Service Programs, the Committee on Arts and Lectures, and District Eleven Residents Association. For further information call x2019 or x3206.

NEWS BRIEFS

The Gold-headed Cane, the highest honor a graduating medical student can receive, went to Richard H. Carmona during School of Medicine Commencement May 24. The other four nominees, who were named members of this prestigious society, were Celia Maria Moreno, Darian W. Morray, Jennifer A. Pratt, and Andrea J. Ruff.

Two emeritus professors were made honorary members of the society as well. They were Edwin B. Boldrey, Neurosurgery, and Otto E. Guttentag, S. Hahneman Professor of Medicine.

The Kaiser Awards for Excellence in Teaching, established by the Henry J. Kaiser Foundation, went to Allan H. Mines, associate professor, Physiology, basic sciences; Myles B. Abbott, assistant clinical professor, Pediatrics, volunteer faculty; John P. Cello, assistant professor, Medicine; and Richard J. Haber, assistant professor, Medicine, and director, Educational Programs and assistant chief, Medical Service, SFGH. Cello and Haber were co-winners in the full-time clinical faculty. One hundred fifty-one MD's were bestowed, 22 PhD's, 10 DMH's and 16 Masters.

The Department of Psychiatry and Langley Porter Psychiatric Institute graduation was held June 6. Forty-eight students, residents, and fellows were honored including fourteen residents from general psychiatry; two chief psychiatry residents; six child psychiatry fellows; one chief child psychiatry fellow; seven fellows completing their internship in clinical psychology; two post-doctoral fellows in clinical psychology; one post-graduate fellow in clinical psychology; and five post-graduate research fellows in psychiatry.

The Doctor of Mental Health (DMH) degree, awarded for the first time ever, went to ten individuals. Otto A. Will, Jr., former medical director of the Austen Riggs Center, Stockbridge, Massachusetts, was the commencement speaker.

The Friends of Langley Porter hosted a champagne reception after the ceremonies.

School of Nursing Commencement will be held on Saturday, June 14 at 1 p.m. at the Marin Civic Center. Baccalaureate degrees will be bestowed on 140 graduates, and 162 will receive the master's degree in nursing.

"Nursing's Future: Choice or Chance?" is the topic of the keynote address to be delivered by Maria O'Rourke, doctoral candidate. Graduate student Brenda Haynie also will give a talk, and a slide presentation will be made by the undergraduate class.

A Teacher of the Year award will be presented by the undergraduate class to a member of the nursing school faculty.

Leading this year's procession will be honorary Marshall Marian Alford, Class of 1926. Chancellor Francis A. Sooy will confer degrees following presentation of graduate students by Harold Harper, dean of the Graduate Division, and undergraduate students by Dean Margretta Styles.

The School of Pharmacy Commencement will be on Saturday, June 21, at 1 p.m. in the Palace of Fine Arts, S.F. Of the 106 graduates this year, 96 will receive the Doctor of Pharmacy degree and 10 will receive the Ph.D. Degree.

Commencement speaker will be Jere E. Goyan, commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration, who is on leave from his position as dean of the UCSF School of Pharmacy.

The winner of the prestigious Bowl of Hygeia Award, the highest student honor in the School will be presented at that time.

Selected School of Pharmacy students and teachers will be honored at the Annual Awards Ceremony on Thursday, June 12 at 7 p.m. at the Hall of Flowers in Golden Gate Park.

At the same event, the Joseph M. Long Foundation will donate $4,000 in prizes to outstanding fulltime faculty, volunteer faculty, and teaching assistants. Several student scholarships and prizes also will be awarded.

The Transportation Office at 1379 Third Avenue will be open until 6 p.m. starting June 2 for convenience of staff who would like help with alternate modes of transportation. In addition, the department will assign an employee to be present at the Information/Visitors Center in Medical Sciences lobby between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. daily to provide faculty, staff, students, and visitors with transportation information.

Summer Parking Permits for garage parking will be on sale, starting Wednesday June 18. The permits, available through the Parking Office at x2566, are $54 and effective June 25 through September 24. Summer monthly fees are also available for $18 and payroll deductions can be arranged.

The summer permits are not available to anyone currently in a University-sponsored van pool or commuter bus program or to "B" lot parking permit holders. A limited number of permits are available, and they will be issued on a first-come, first-served basis.

"Health Hazards of Hospital Work" — ranging from avoidable back injuries, infections, and stress to exposure to radiation and toxic materials — will be discussed at a free one-day course on Tuesday, June 10, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the State Building Auditorium, 455 Golden Gate Avenue, Room 1194. Nurses and nurse practitioners requesting continuing education unit credit are asked to pay $20.

All hospital workers are welcome, including janitorial, dietary, laboratory, laundry, clerical and administrative personnel, as well as health professionals.

The course, sponsored by the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH); the UCSF component of the Northern California Occupational Health Center, the City's Employee Health Service and the Occupational Health Clinic, all at SFGH, will feature talks on specific hospital health hazards and the areas where they occur; who is affected; how to identify, monitor and eliminate these hazards; and available resources for evaluating them.

For program information and registration contact Gail Grynbaum, Employee Health Service, SFGH, 821-5259.

William C. Kenney, UCSF adjunct associate professor of Medicine and research chemist at VA Medical Center, S.F., is one of 11 medical investigators chosen nationally by the Veterans Administration to study the biochemical, genetic, and pharmacological roots of alcoholism.

Kenney currently is investigating the effects of alcohol and its principal metabolic oxidation product in the body — acetaldehyde — on cellular proteins.

A major goal of the research is to determine if acetaldehyde interacts directly with the amino and thiol groups of cellular proteins — which are important for protein structure and function — and whether this action is generalized or specific.

Valerie E. Charlton, assistant professor of Pediatrics, has been elected a John A. Hartford Foundation Fellow, under the sponsorship of Abraham Rudolph, vice chairman and professor, Pediatrics and professor of Obstetrics, Gynecology and Reproductive Sciences, Physiology and senior staff member, CVRI.

The new fellowship program's objective is to stimulate interest among promising and highly qualified young physicians in the early stages of their research careers, in pursuing careers in biomedical research. Approximately 12 new fellows will be selected annually.

The fellows are selected nationally and each receives a $30,000 yearly stipend for a period of three years.

Applications are now being accepted from children ages 6 to 14 who have hemophilia and other bleeding disorders for a special summer camp which will run June 22-29 at Camp Cazadero, near the Russian River.

Co-sponsored by the hemophilia programs at UCSF, Children's Hospital Medical Center of Northern California, Oakland, and the Northern California Chapter of the National Hemophilia Foundation, the camp offers a wide range of activities and provides a vacation to youngsters who, because of their medical needs, often are refused admission to regular camping programs.

Susan Karp, UCSF hemophilia nurse coordinator is co-organizer of the camping program. Other camp staff include Marion Koerper, director, UCSF Hemophilia Program and physical therapist Nancy Horowitz.

The Hemophilia Foundation continues to solicit donations to help sponsor the camp. For further information contact Jackie Gianinno, Hemophilia Foundation, 1815 Telegraph Avenue, Rm. 215, Oakland, CA 94612, (415) 444-4855.
